

autism fact

People with autism are good at some things and not as good at other things. One person may have some difficulties talking and others may talk a lot.

What do you find easy to do?

What do you enjoy doing?

autism fact

Autistic people may be extra sensitive to sound, touch and light which means they may react differently to others in everyday situations.

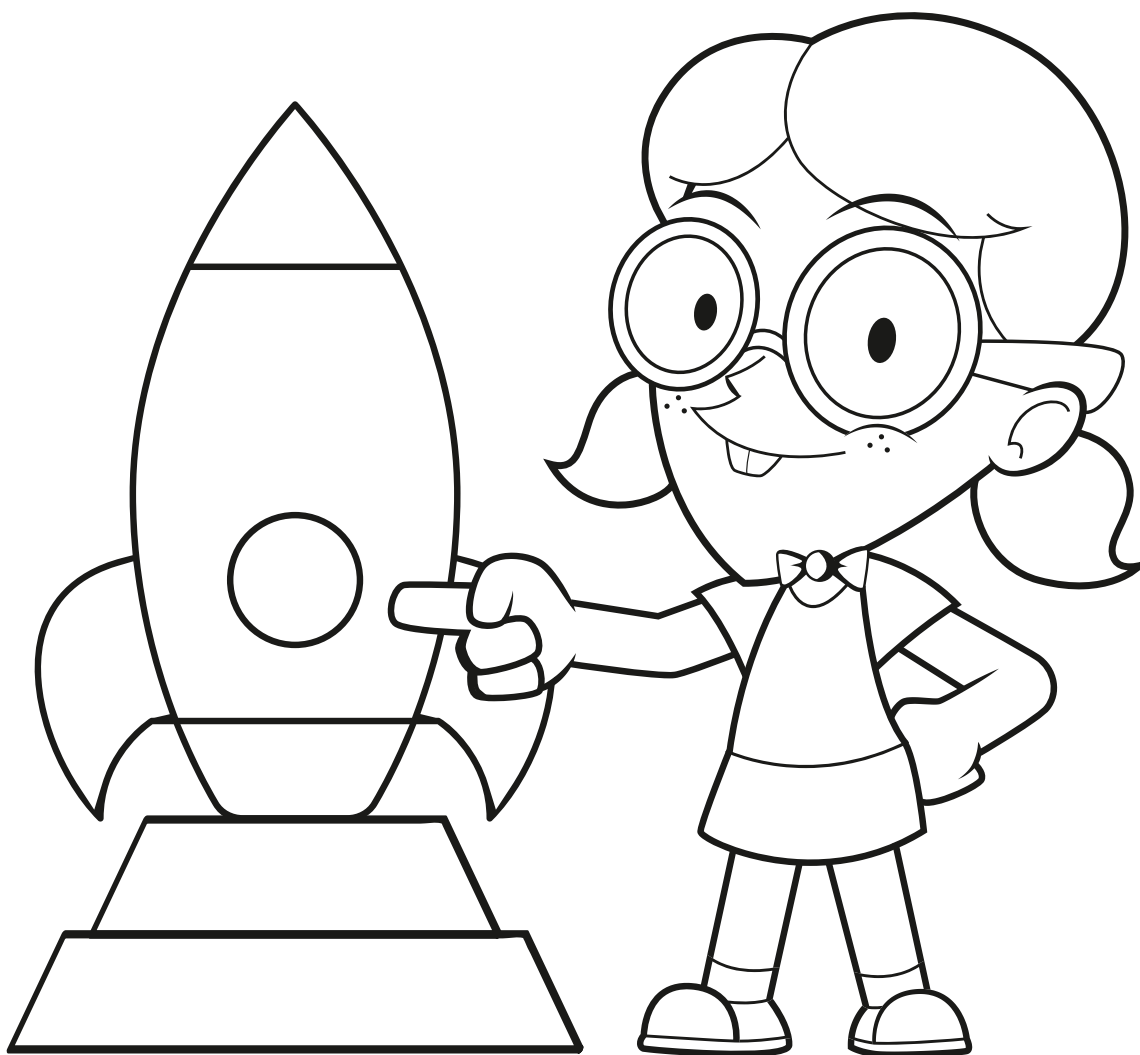

How many senses do you have?

Is there a noise or taste you don't like?

autism fact

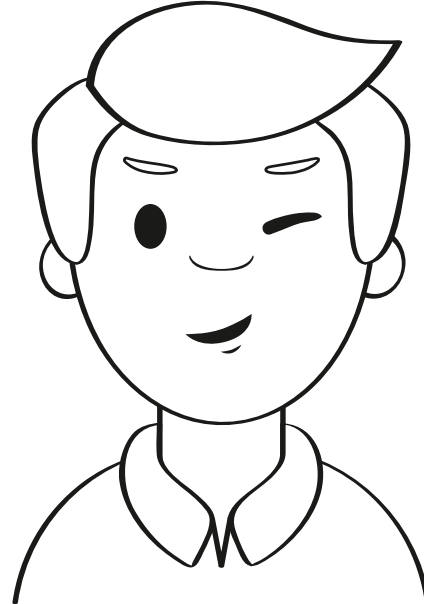

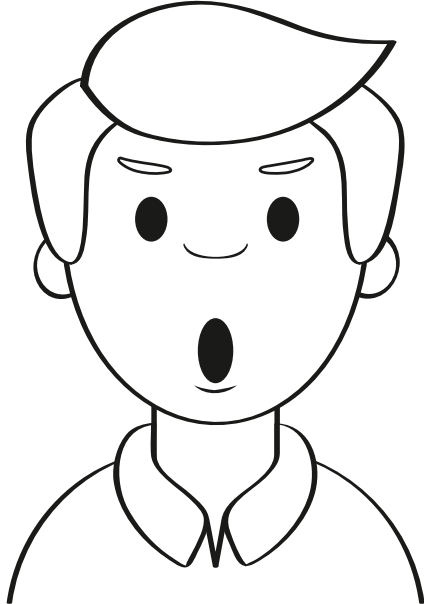

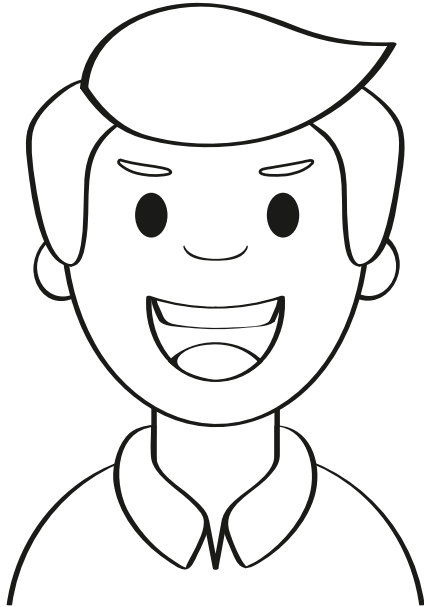

You cannot catch autism... it is not an illness. People with autism think differently which can sometimes be good for solving problems and creating things in a unique way.

If you do not have autism you can sometimes think differently from other people.
Do you ever think differently to your friends?

autism fact

People with autism may sometimes find it difficult to understand facial expressions and may need extra information to recognise emotions.

What is each person feeling in the pictures?

What makes you happy?

What makes you scared?

autism fact

People with autism may behave in a different way to other people. They may be very quiet or they may be very loud and may like having friends just like you do.

What is the noisiest game you play with your friends?

When do you like to be quiet and by yourself?
